ABOUT ME:

Although my academic training until 2020 is fully focused on Agronomy, once I advanced in my career I realized that it is not an area that I like professionally, for that I decided to take a huge change in the academic and work environment. Programming was always the second option. Once I finished the FrontEnd course, I was strongly attracted to generating new knowledge and being able to work as a web developer. Adding a huge motivation to learn more and dedicate myself professionally to web development.
